A request from Daniel Goldberg

I need a photographer for a reception at the Mountain Lakes house in Princeton on Saturday, August 27 from 1 to 4. Small event...70 people tops. No post-processing needed. Just hand me the card after the event and I'll take it from there. Fee to be negotiated. People can call me on my cell-609-203-3272 or e-mail me at dcgphd@yahoo.com.

Thanks.

Daniel Goldberg

Founded in 1982, the Princeton Photography Club is a diverse group of photographers who share ideas, techniques, and fellowship, while working to improve their photographic abilities.

The club holds meetings with eminent guest speakers and offers workshops including introductory and advanced camera techniques, color management, composition, matting and framing. Many of the club's workshops encourage creative photography. General meetings are held at 7:30 PM on the second Wednesday of each month, September through June, at the D&R Greenway Land Trust, Princeton, and are free and open to the public.

The club has developed relationships with other nonprofit organizations in the area, including the Historical Society of Princeton, the Princeton Battlefield Society, and Grounds for Sculpture (GFS).

The Princeton Photography Club (PPC) provides curatorial management for the Lakefront Gallery at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital Hamilton as well as the Millstone River Gallery at Merwick Care & Rehabilitation Center in Plainsboro. PPC is one of the few photography clubs with two galleries in which to exhibit. This gives both our members and, by invitation, local artists venues where they can display their talents.

Socializing at general meetings and at workshops, Princeton Photography Club members develop new and ongoing friendships. We count this as an important aspect of the PPC environment.

To learn about our club events, meetings, and members' achievements, and to view examples of their photography, please see our website, princetonphotoclub.org. The membership form can be downloaded from <http://www.princetonphotoclub.org/Membership.html>.

Nota Bene

The PPC holds its monthly meetings on the 2nd Wednesday of the month from September through June.

However, because of scheduling conflicts and religious holidays, the October 2016 and April 2017 meeting dates have been changed:

October 26, NOT October 12
April 19, NOT April 12

Please mark your calendars accordingly
